30th June 2024 — Trinity 5

Jesus touch us and heal us

As a Christian community, we acknowledge and pay respect to the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the traditional custodians of the lands on which we gather and meet.

We pay our respects to the Elders—past, present and emerging.

JESUS TOUCH US AND HEAL US

The readings today show us that God wants nothing but life and goodness for us, if only we will let Him rescue us. The first reading explains that God desires life for us, not death. The second reading tells us that God desires abundance for all of his children. And in the Gospel, Jesus brings a young girl back to life and heals a woman who has been suffering for years.

The intertwined miracles told in the Gospel (Mark 5:21-43) dramatically present Jesus as the conqueror of death. Also, the fact that Jesus' journey to attend to the dying daughter of the synagogue ruler, Jairus, is interrupted by the healing of the woman suffering from a haemorrhage, offers a significant instruction in faith. In terrible anxiety, Jairus has to stand by and wait while Jesus attends to the woman. We feel his shock at the news so bluntly conveyed to him, "Your daughter is dead. Why put the Master to any further trouble?" Jesus' response, literally translated, means, "Do not be afraid. Just keep on believing". Jairus must continue on his journey of faith, a journey now confronting not just grave illness but death itself.

What of the woman? She illustrates a different aspect of faith, not so much one that has to persevere as one that overcomes barriers. The account makes much of the fact that a great crowd presses in on Jesus as he makes his way to Jairus' house. Everyone in a sense is touching him, as the disciples rudely point out (v.31). But one person in the crowd touches him in a different way: touches him with faith.

Knowing that her condition rendered her unclean and therefore not permitted to touch other people because that would transfer ritual impurity to them, she had hoped to access Jesus' power simply by touching his clothes. That touch healed her physically but for Jesus healing involved much more. By bringing her out in public Jesus offers her social rehabilitation. By asserting that her faith had brought her healing he makes her an example of how faith gives access to the "salvation" he has come to bring.

Through her affliction, the woman suffered social exclusion for 12 years. The little girl who died was 12 years old; she had died on the threshold of adult life. The numerical correspondence is not coincidental. In the house, with everyone else save the parents and three closest disciples excluded, Jesus raises the girl so that, now arrived at marriageable age, she may take up her adult life, just as the woman returns to life in the community – including the possibility of marriage – after a 12-year exclusion. The scene is attractively domestic. Faith has rendered the Christian household a place of access to the power of the risen Lord.

Jesus healed those who were sick and suffering, and he calls us today to care for those who are in need. We show our care for others when we ask for Jesus' help, just as Jairus showed his care for his daughter by asking Jesus to help her. We can pray for people who are sick or having a hard time. We can pay a visit to the sick and bring the love and healing of Jesus to them.

A HUGE thank you to Gill Doyle, Glen Solomons and Jeff (from the Op Shop), Pierre (an Op Shop customer) and Ginny Glover for their tireless efforts with assisting me to clear out the hall kitchen cupboards contents earlier this week in readiness for work to begin on Monday, 1st July.

There is a table in the Ashworth Room on which items of unknown origin have been placed. Please check the table to see if something there belongs to you. If they remain after this coming Sunday (30th June), the remaining items will be disposed of.

Also, please remember that the Ashworth Room is now being utilized by multiple users, and there will be some disruption to all concerned. However, if we all work together, it will ensure that no-one will be disadvantaged.
